

Ed's Reading Room

Moonlocket

by Peter Bunzl

Ed's Poetry

Towards the end of Chapter 15 of this book Celine began to hum a tune softly to herself and then she added some words. Using these as a starting point for a poem, continue in this style.

I invoke thee, spirits of the furthest places,

Leave your graves, and wing your way, from lost eternal starless spaces.

When you have finished your poem you could read it to a friend or learn and recite it.

Ed would enjoy reading your poem. You could email your poem to him.

Ed's Reading Room

Moonlocket

by Peter Bunzl

Secret Codes

Look at the code and its deciphering on p 278 and 279 of this book.

Fmghx it tig rjxhv ticw fmqzw uofhvlxvcwn.

Fleet is the river that flows underground.

Decide how the code works then using the same code write:

It takes a brave heart to win great battles.

Look at the map of Brackenbridge at the beginning of the book then draw your own version of the map using your own style.

