

Ed's Reading Room

To the Edge of the World

by Julia Green

Ed's Poetry

Fragments of Mara's happy song drifted over to Jamie as they sat on the beach with Django nearby - page 171. Using these as a model, write some verses of your own.

The wind the stars the sparkling sea
They fill my heart and set me free...

I dance and run and clap my hands
My feet leave footprints in the sand
We won't go back where troubles are
We love this place of wind and star.

When you have finished your poem you could read it to a friend or learn and recite it.

Ed would enjoy reading your poem. You could email your poem to him.

To the Edge of the World

At this point in the story, Jamie finds Mara's notebook full of sketches of boats, birds and shells with scribbled words. Think about what she has created and do an illustration of your own.
